

Day 4 journal entry

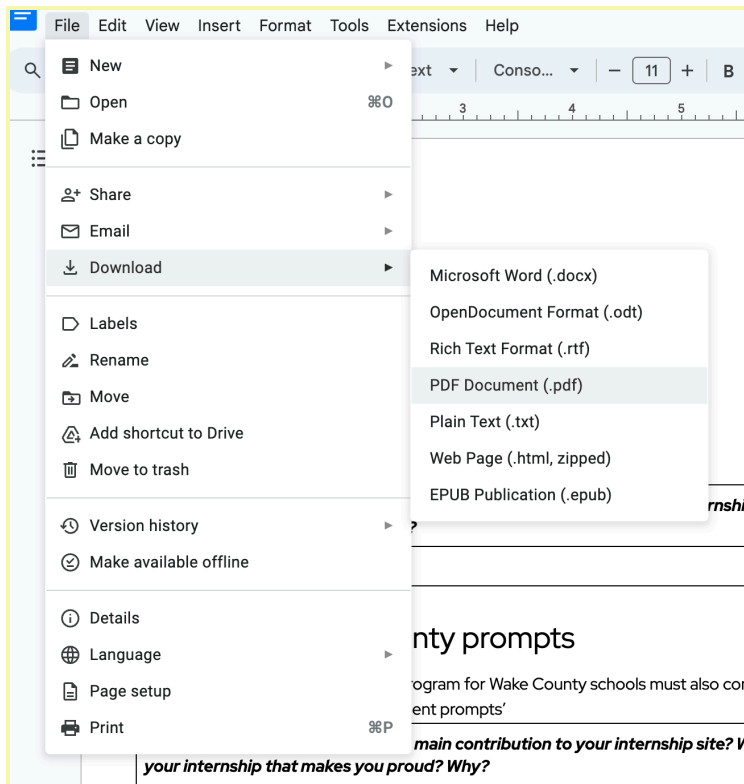

Krish Attaluri

Prompt option 3: What are your main takeaways from this first half of your internship and how do you plan to carry those lessons into your second week?

My main takeaways from this first half of my internship are that there are many different ways to solve problems, everyone has ideas that are different but that doesn't mean that they aren't good ideas, and coding is easier than it once was because of AI. I plan to approach any problems I have next week from different angles, I will be open to more ideas from different people, and I will figure out how to use AI effectively to help me code while still learning.
