| Prompt option 3: What are some of the differences you've noticed between a school environment and a professional work environment? |
| --- |
| I have noticed that in a professional work environment the dynamic is very different. In the workplace, everyone has their own schedule that they must follow and it is on them to be punctual. At school, your schedule is laid out for you by the school and it is incredibly organized. Each day you take a certain number of classes for a certain amount of time. In the office, meetings can get rescheduled, projects could get pushed forward, requiring adaptability and critical thinking. Overall, the workplace requires autonomy and being "your own boss". |
